In 2009, Family Worker Training and Development Programme formed partnerships with Community Resource Network and Western Sydney Community Forum to develop the project and as a group joined with UWS to establish a formal action based research process with small to medium sized, Community Services Grants Program (CSGP) funded organisations in Western Sydney.

The project sought to enhance both the skills and knowledge of practitioners as well as deepen the understanding of how to use RBA in a critically reflexive way.

The Highly successful outcomes of this project are reported in the detailed report: Results Based Accountability (RBA) Training for CSGP funded NGO's.
